armv6 Package Builder for FreeBSD is online

 There it finally is, The Phunsites Package Builder at http://pkgbuild.phunsites.net/.

Since my initial writings on FreeBSD on Raspberry Pi, I've always wanted to have a webservice, where I can just select the port I want and it'll be packaged up in minutes.
Now, there it is. Fully automated, with a neat and (hopefully) easy to use webinterface.

Check it out. It's free lemons! ;-)
